Deferral, Withdrawal and Cancellation

At QIHE, we understand that sometimes circumstances may affect your ability to continue your studies as planned. The Institute has clear processes for deferring, suspending, or cancelling enrolment to support students while ensuring compliance with Australian regulations.

Deferral of Studies

Students may request to defer their studies (postpone commencement or temporarily take a break) due to compassionate or compelling circumstances, such as:

- Serious illness or injury (with medical documentation)
- Family emergencies (e.g., death or serious illness of a family member)
- Financial hardship or unexpected personal difficulties
- Visa delays, legal obligations, or other unforeseen events outside the student's control

Key Points

- Deferral is usually granted for up to one semester.
- International students should be aware that deferral may affect their student visa.
- Formal applications and supporting documents are required.

Withdrawal and Cancellation of Enrolment

Enrolment may be cancelled either by the student or by the Institute.

- Student-Initiated Withdrawal: Students may request to withdraw from their program due to personal, health, financial, or academic reasons. Supporting documentation must be provided.
- Institute-Initiated Cancellation: QIHE may cancel enrolment in cases of serious misconduct, repeated academic failure, non-payment of fees, or other breaches of policy or visa requirements.

The Institute may cancel a student's enrolment if necessary. Reasons may include:

- Misconduct or breach of the Student Code of Conduct;
- Academic integrity breaches (e.g., plagiarism, inappropriate use of AI, cheating);
- Failure to meet academic progress requirements;
- Non-payment of fees or breach of financial obligations;
- Breach of visa conditions (for international students).

Cancellation by the Institute is only applied after a fair investigation, and students will always be given the chance to respond before a decision is made.

If cancellation occurs, QIHE is required to report this change to the Department of Home Affairs (DHA) through the PRISMS system, which may affect a student's visa.

Appeals and Support

- Students have the right to appeal any decision regarding deferral, suspension, or cancellation within 20 working days.
- The appeal process follows QIHE's Complaints and Appeal Policy and Procedure.
- Student Services can provide advice and support throughout the process.

Important Information

- If you disagree with a decision about your enrolment, you can appeal through QIHE's fair and transparent complaints and appeals process.
- Any deferral, suspension, or cancellation will be reported to the DHA and may affect your student visa.
- Students are encouraged to seek advice from Student Services and, if needed, the DHA before making decisions.

Complaints and Appeals

At QIHE, we are committed to creating a fair and supportive learning environment. If you ever feel dissatisfied with a decision, service, or experience, you have the right to raise a complaint or appeal without charge.

How it Works

- Start by speaking informally with your teaching staff, Student Services, or relevant staff.
- If the issue is not resolved, you can lodge a formal complaint or appeal using the Complaints and Appeal Form, available from Student Services or the QIHE website.
- You will receive an outcome in writing, normally within 10 working days.

External Support

If you are not satisfied with QIHE's final decision, you may contact the Commonwealth Ombudsman (free service for overseas students of private higher education providers):

- Phone: 1300 362 072
- Website: www.ombudsman.gov.au/overseas-students

This ensures that your concerns are always heard and resolved fairly.

For further details, please refer to the Complaints and Appeal Policy and Procedure available on the QIHE website.

Program Progression and Attendance

At QIHE, your success and wellbeing are our priority. To remain enrolled and progress smoothly through your program, you must meet minimum academic and attendance requirements in line with the Education Services for Overseas Students (ESOS) Act 2000 and the National Code of Practice for Providers of Education and Training to Overseas Students 2018.

To maintain satisfactory progression, you are required to:

- Pass at least 50% of the courses you enrol in each term;
- Avoid failing the same course more than once;
- Remain enrolled following any approved study break;
- Progress at a pace that allows you to complete your program within the maximum timeframe (and, for international students, within your Confirmation of Enrolment (CoE) period).

International students must also maintain a minimum attendance rate of 80%. Attendance is monitored closely, and the Institute will contact you if your attendance falls below this level to provide support and remind you of your responsibilities.

If you are at risk of not meeting these requirements, the Institute will provide early intervention and tailored support to help you stay on track. Full details are available in the Academic Progression and Graduation Policy.

Tuition Protection Service (TPS)

QIHE is committed to protecting your tuition fees through the Tuition Protection Service (TPS), an Australian Government initiative that assists students in the event of provider default.

What is the Tuition Protection Service?

The Tuition Protection Service (TPS) ensures continuity of study if QIHE is ever unable to deliver your program.

How TPS protects you:

- You will receive a refund of unused tuition fees (or, for FEE-HELP students, a re-credit of your HELP loan balance).

If QIHE cannot arrange either option, the Australian Government's TPS will contact you directly to assist. Students normally have six (6) months to accept an alternative program, with extensions possible in some cases.

For provider default outcomes, see the Refunds section in this Prospectus and your Letter of Offer (Written Agreement) for full details.

For information about refunds when you withdraw, defer, or cancel your enrolment, please see the Refunds section of this Prospectus.

How to Apply for a Refund:

1. Submit a Refund Application Form (available from Student Services or the QIHE website) with supporting documents (e.g., medical certificate, visa refusal letter).

As a student renting in New South Wales, you are protected by the Residential Tenancies Act 2010 (NSW). This means you are entitled to:

- Safe, secure, and well-maintained housing.
- A written rental agreement that clearly explains your obligations.
- Receipts or records for rent and bond payments.
- Fair processes for resolving disputes with landlords or property managers.

Tips for Students

- Always inspect a property in person before paying rent or signing an agreement.
- Be cautious of offers that seem too good to be true.
- Never pay large deposits in cash without proper receipts.
- Understand the terms of your rental contract before you sign.

Accredited Student Accommodation

For peace of mind, consider housing accredited by the Student Accommodation Association (SAA) under the National Property Accreditation Scheme (NPAS). These properties are designed for students and provide safe, inclusive environments.

Transport

Australia has safe and reliable public transport systems including trains, buses, and trams. Student concession cards may be available depending on the state. Cycling and walking are also popular, especially in urban areas close to campus.

Health and Safety

Australia is one of the safest countries in the world, with low crime rates and strong health and legal systems. However, students are reminded to take the same safety precautions as they would in any country. All international students are required to hold Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC) for the duration of their studies.

Work While You Study

International students holding a valid student visa are permitted to work up to 48 hours per fortnight during study periods, and full-time (unlimited hours) during official semester breaks. Engaging in part-time work can provide valuable experience and assist in meeting living expenses. These work conditions are determined by the Australian Government and may be subject to change. Students are advised to check the Department of Home Affairs website for the most up-to-date information.

Cultural Life

Living in Australia offers opportunities to experience:

- Multicultural festivals and food.
- Outdoor activities such as beaches, parks, and sports.
- Arts, music, and entertainment.
- Local and international communities.

Australia is known for its friendly and inclusive culture, giving students a chance to feel at home while pursuing their education.
